Job Type: Per Project

Job Description:

We are now looking for a Senior Producer to lead the charge from minute-to-minute, across the board on a daily basis here at ApexScript. Part user experience manager, part technical manager, part account executive, part business-negotiator; this role demands a well-rounded talent. We will rely on your drive, experience and skills to produce our projects with a hands-on and detail-oriented approach. This is less of project management role and more of a roll-up-your-sleeves and dive-into-to-the-project role.

Qualifications:

- Proactive, motivational, mentoring and encouraging approach.
- Ability to qualify innovative ideas with top-notch research and industry knowledge.
- Background as a senior developer , senior UX designer OR creative director/senior designer is highly merited.
- Mastery of interactive/software development processes from an information architecture, interaction design, design and technical perspective.
- Strong hands-on wire-framing capabilities, demonstrating excellent understanding of usability and what makes a good web project.
- Strong written and spoken command of the English language.
- Excellent communicator to both creative individuals and clients alike.
- Confident and experienced in delegating tasks in both technical and creative areas.
- Quick-thinking, accurate, hands-on, stress-tolerant and a problem-solver.
- Business-savvy and relationship-driven.
- Knowledgeable of major project management approaches, including Agile SCRUM.
